Introduction

The global movement for change works globally to be effective for bringing positive changes in the both ways of thinking and living. This movement believes that most of the issues like environmental issues especially different kind of pollutions are come from the way of our thinking and the way of our living. And these must be changed if we want to have the planet earth a better place for living.

The “Our Planet ISSUES” global magazine

This magazine is the organ of the “Global Movement for Change” that is the voice of students and millions of sufferer people from different countries, different places and cultures but not the authorities. And also, this is an opportunity for the students and the others to practice and expressing themselves towards global solidarity for positive changes!

There is a basic rule for all in this Global Movement and its global magazine, it is “Treat everyone with kindness and respect”.

The magazine issues all the matters and the ideas of the participators that come from different countries, places and cultures reflecting their conditions all towards the positive changes.
